STAT

Report of Inspection by The Information Security Oversight Office of the Central Intelligence Agency

I.	Ge	eneral
	On March 15, May 3 and August 28, 1984, Program Analyst, Information Security Oversight Office (ISOO), inspected the Central Intelligence Agency's (CIA) information security program to evaluate its compliance wit Executive Order 12356. Chief, Information Management Branch. ISOO's FY 1984 inspections continued to concentrat on agency training programs; marking and safeguarding; and in particular, focused on the degree of understanding CIA personnel had of relevant provisions of E.O. 12356 as they relate to original and derivative classification.
II.	Findings
	A.	. Classification/Marking
		The agency continues to use its classification guide as a basis for its derivative classification. CIA procedures for using the guide as a basis for a derivative classification are more effective than procedures in most other agencies because CIA officials marking the documents are required to identify the specific item in the guide. This procedure facilitates the conduct of audit trails to determine if the level and duration assignments are proper.	STAT

B. Training

Personnel responsible for the classifying and marking of documents continue to receive effective initial and refresher training. Immediate corrections are made when errors in marking procedures are detected. Training in the handling, safeguarding and use of classified information is an ongoing program with frequent refresher sessions and constant observation.

C. Safequarding

The agency has excellent procedures for the transmittal, storage and handling of classified information. Programs and procedures are constantly reviewed to determine if they require upgrading or modification. Individual offices have strict programs for the checking and control of classified information in their possession. No deficiency was detected during the course of the inspections.

III. Conclusion

The Central Intelligence Agency's information security program is in compliance with the Executive Order and the ISOO Directive.
